

Extremal Graphs with respect to the Modified First Zagreb Connection Index

Topological indices (TIs) have an important role in studying properties of molecules. A main problem in mathematical chemistry is finding extreme graphs with respect to a given TI. We study extremal graphs with respect to the modified first Zagreb connection index for trees, unicyclic graphs with or without a fixed girth and connected graphs are determined. These graphs are relevant since they are chemical graphs.